

Berlin-Schönefeld, 5th November 2007

Press Release

Cockpit4u establish Boeing 747 type rating program

Cockpit4u today announced the launch of the Boeing 747 type rating program. The training program will be offered at Cockpit4u's training centre in Germany located in Berlin-Schönefeld.

"Cockpit4u offers a wide variety of advanced aviation training programs that are designed to enrich the skills of airline pilots. With the Boeing 747 program we support the world airline's growing Boeing 747 fleets", said Dennis Pilz, Managing Director.

"Our new Boeing 747 type rating program suits the demand of our customers. As an independent training provider we are able to adopt the training program to the customer needs in a very flexible and cost-effective way", said Stefan Heuss, Head of Training.

Press contact:

Dennis Pilz
Managing Director
Cockpit4u Aviation Service GmbH
Im Airport Center
Mittelstr. 5 / 5a
12529 Berlin-Schönefeld
Telephone 030/3266 3993
Telefax 030/3266 3991
E-mail: info@cockpit4u.com
Skype: c4u_office
www.cockpit4u.com

About Cockpit4u

Cockpit4u is a leading provider of training services and offers airlines and new career entrants professional services with maximum quality. In doing so, Cockpit4u supports airlines in training flight crews and provide qualified pilots, if required. New career entrants are ideally prepared for their future job in the cockpit and are subsequently placed within the network of Cockpit4u.